NOTES FOR CONTRIBUTORS

I. General

1. Papers offered for publication should be original contributions dealing with the biology, ecology, physiology, behaviour, taxonomy, genetics or control of the insects, mites, fungi and other organisms associated with stored products, or with studies on the physical and chemical nature of the stored product environment which have relevance to these organisms and their control. Short communications that the author does not intend to publish in more detail at a later date will also be acceptable. Review articles will be accepted by arrangement with the Editors. Papers accepted for the Journal of Stored Products Research may not be published elsewhere, in any form or language, without the written consent of the Editors.
2. Papers should be submitted to the appropriate Regional Editor:
Australia and Asia: Dr B. R. Champ
The Americas: Dr E. G. Jay
Europe and Africa: Dr P. F. Prevett for addresses see inside front cover.
3. A reprint order form will be supplied with the page proofs for the purchase of reprints and copies of the issue at a specially reduced rate. It would be appreciated if authors would notify the Publisher of any change of address which occurs whilst their paper is in the process of publication.
4. The original manuscript and diagrams will be discarded one month after publication unless the publisher is requested to return original material to the author.

II. Script requirements

1. Papers must be typewritten (double spacing) on one side of the paper only. Tables and legends should be on separate sheets, and the place where they are to be inserted in the text should be indicated. All papers must be provided with a brief abstract. Only papers in English will be accepted. Any Greek characters should be clearly indicated. The technical description of methods should be given in detail only when such methods are new. The metric equivalent of any non-metric units should be given. The provision of two copies of each typescript will facilitate rapid editorial consideration.
2. Illustrations should accompany the script separately, and legends should be kept to a minimum. Line-drawings should include all relevant details; if they are already well drawn it may be possible to reproduce them direct from the originals. It is not possible to reproduce from prints with weak lines. Illustrations for reproduction should normally be about twice the final size required. Half-tones should be included only where they are essential. Any lettering on diagrams should be sufficiently large and bold to permit reproduction when the diagram has been reduced to a size suitable for inclusion in the Journal.
3. Tables should be submitted in a form suitable for direct reproduction. The following guideline should be adhered to. Page size should be $8\frac{1}{2} \times 11$ in. (or 21×30 cm). Large or long tables should be typed on continuing sheets. Table headings should be typed on separate sheets, but identifying numbers should be placed in the right-hand corner of each sheet of tabular material. Footnotes should be typed on separate sheets. Original typed tables are required. It will be the author's responsibility to prepare his tables in accordance with this procedure, and no facilities exist at the Editorial Office for retyping.
4. Common names of pesticides which have been accepted by the International Organization for Standardization (ISO/R116, /R219, /R258, /R290, etc.) should be used wherever possible. If there is no international standard name, then a name acceptable to a well-known national body (e.g. the Entomological Society of America, the Canadian Standards Association, etc.) should be used. The full chemical name of pesticides which lack an accepted ISO name must be given when the compound is first mentioned. Commercial and trade names should be avoided if possible. If needed, they should be placed in inverted commas. Trade names for active ingredients are preferable to those for particular formulations.
5. The appropriate international rules of nomenclature should be used for all organisms. Species names should be given in full when first used, e.g. Sitophilus zeamais Motsch., or Tribolium castaneum (Herbst); subsequently this may be abbreviated, e.g. to Sitophilus zeamais or, if there is no ambiguity, to S. zeamais. Common names, such as "Flat Grain beetle" should be avoided in titles and abstracts.
6. References should be quoted in the text as follows: GONSHOR (1960), and listed thus:
BUXTON, E. W., SINHA, I. and WARD, V. (1962) Soil-borne diseases of Sitka spruce seedlings in a forest nursery. Trans. Br. mycol. Soc. 45, 433-457.
